MHT-CET MBA/MMS English

Grammar + Figures of Speech + Vocabulary Master Guide

A CET-oriented revision book for grammar, error spotting, sentence correction, vocabulary, RC support and common figures of speech.

How this was built	The uploaded MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2026 sample material shows Verbal Ability/RC questions including error spotting and sentence-correction formats. The expanded grammar and figure-of-speech sections below are supplementary preparation material so the learner has one complete revision book.

1. PARTS OF SPEECH

Topic	Meaning	Example	Exam focus
Noun	Name of a person, place, thing, animal, or idea.	student, Mumbai, honesty	Common types: proper, common, collective, abstract, material; countable/uncountable.
Pronoun	Replaces a noun.	he, she, they, who, which, mine	Watch person/case: I/me, he/him, who/whom; possessives: my/mine, their/theirs.
Adjective	Describes or qualifies a noun/pronoun.	bright, five, beautiful	Degrees: positive, comparative, superlative.
Verb	Shows an action, state, or occurrence.	run, is, become	Main/helping/modal verbs; transitive/intransitive; finite/non-finite.
Adverb	Modifies a verb, adjective, or another adverb.	quickly, very, often	Common groups: manner, place, time, frequency, degree.
Preposition	Shows relation of a noun/pronoun to another word.	in, on, at, between, among	Time/place and fixed combinations matter in questions.
Conjunction	Connects words, phrases, or clauses.	and, but, because, although	Coordinating, subordinating and correlative pairs.
Interjection	Expresses sudden feeling or reaction.	oh!, wow!, alas!	Usually stands apart from sentence structure.
Article / Determiner	Limits or identifies a noun.	a, an, the, this, some, many	Use a/an by sound, not spelling; the is used for specific/known items.

2. ARTICLES & DETERMINERS

High-yield rules for a/an/the and common determiners.

a - Before a consonant sound. Example: a book, a university, a European an - Before a vowel sound. Example: an apple, an hour, an MBA

the - Specific, known, unique, or previously mentioned. Example: the sun, the book I bought no article - General plural/uncountable use in many contexts. Example: Books are useful. Milk is healthy.

some/any - Quantity; some often in affirmative, any common in negatives/questions. Example: some water; any questions?

many/much - many + countable; much + uncountable. Example: many books; much time

Trap	Choose a/an by pronunciation: a university, an honest person, an MBA student.

3. NOUNS

Forms, countability and common exam traps.

Singular/plural: book/books; child/children; man/men; criterion/criteria (advanced).

Countable: a book, two books. Uncountable: information, advice, furniture, luggage, equipment.

Possessive: Rahul's book; students' bags; children's toys.

Collective nouns: team, committee, family, audience. The verb can depend on whether the group is treated as one unit or as individuals; in entrance tests, follow the sentence meaning.

4. PRONOUNS

Case, agreement and relative pronouns.

Subject: I, he, she, we, they. Object: me, him, her, us, them. Possessive: my/mine, your/yours, their/theirs.

Who usually acts as the subject of a relative clause; whom is used for an object in formal usage. Which commonly refers to things; that can refer to people or things in defining clauses.

Agreement: Each/every/either/neither generally takes a singular verb in standard test grammar.

5. ADJECTIVES & DEGREES OF COMPARISON

Positive: tall

Comparative: taller / more beautiful

Superlative: tallest / most beautiful

Common irregulars: good-better-best; bad-worse-worst; little-less-least; many/much-more-most.

Do not double: more better, most best, more taller are incorrect in standard exam grammar.

6. VERBS & SUBJECT-VERB AGREEMENT

Simple rule: singular subject -> singular verb; plural subject -> plural verb. He goes; they go.

Words between subject and verb do not change agreement: The bouquet of roses is beautiful.

Each/every/neither/either: usually singular in test-style agreement. Each student has a card.

Either/or and neither/nor: the verb generally agrees with the nearer subject: Neither the manager nor the employees were ready.

7. TENSES

Tense	Use	Example
Simple Present	habit/fact	She studies every day.
Present Continuous	action happening now/around now	She is studying now.
Present Perfect	past action with present relevance	She has finished the test.
Present Perfect Continuous	action continuing up to now	She has been studying for two hours.
Simple Past	completed past action	She studied yesterday.
Past Continuous	action in progress in past	She was studying at 6 pm.

Tense	Use	Example
Past Perfect	earlier past before another past event	She had left before I arrived.
Past Perfect Continuous	ongoing earlier-past duration	She had been studying for two hours before dinner.
Simple Future	future action/prediction	She will study tomorrow.
Future Continuous	ongoing future action	She will be studying at 7 pm.
Future Perfect	completed before future point	She will have finished by Monday.
Future Perfect Continuous	duration up to a future point	She will have been studying for two hours by 8 pm.

8. ADVERBS

Manner: carefully; place: here; time: yesterday; frequency: often; degree: very.

Common trap: quick is an adjective, quickly is an adverb. She is a quick learner; she learns quickly.

Position: frequency adverbs often come before the main verb (She often studies) but after forms of be (She is often late).

9. PREPOSITIONS

Time: at 5 pm, on Monday, in July. Place: at the station, on the table, in the room.

Common pairs: interested in, good at, afraid of, depend on, capable of, responsible for, different from.

Between is commonly used for two; among for more than two in standard teaching grammar.

10. CONJUNCTIONS

Coordinating: for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so (FANBOYS).

Subordinating: because, although, while, if, unless, since, before, after, whereas.

Correlative: either...or, neither...nor, both...and, not only...but also.

11. PHRASES & CLAUSES

Phrase: a group of words without a finite verb acting as a unit: in the morning, very quickly.

Independent clause: can stand alone. Dependent clause: cannot stand alone and begins with a subordinator/relative marker in many cases.

Noun clause: I know what she wants. Adjective/relative clause: the book that I bought. Adverb clause: I left because it was late.

12. GERUNDS, INFINITIVES & PARTICIPLES

Gerund (-ing): functions as a noun - Swimming is healthy.

Infinitive: to + base verb - I want to study.

Participle: verb form acting adjectivally or in verb phrases - a broken chair; a smiling child; she is studying.

Modifier trap	The opening modifier should logically describe the subject: Walking down the road, I saw a dog. Avoid dangling forms such as Walking down the road, the rain started.

13. MODALS

can/could: ability, possibility, polite request.

may/might: possibility, permission.

must: necessity/strong obligation.

should/ought to: advice/duty.

will/would: future, willingness, polite request, conditional sense.

shall: formal suggestion/offer in some contexts.

14. ACTIVE & PASSIVE VOICE

Active: The committee approved the plan. Passive: The plan was approved by the committee.

Core pattern: object + appropriate form of be + past participle (+ by + agent when needed). Preserve tense.

15. DIRECT & INDIRECT SPEECH

Direct: She said, "I am tired." Indirect: She said that she was tired.

Watch pronouns, tense backshift where appropriate, time/place words (today -> that day, tomorrow -> the next day, here -> there), and question structure.

16. CONDITIONALS

Type	Meaning	Example
Zero	general truth	If you heat ice, it melts.
First	real/possible future	If she studies, she will improve.
Second	unreal/hypothetical present/future	If she studied more, she would improve.
Third	unreal past	If she had studied, she would have improved.

17. QUESTION TAGS

Positive statement -> negative tag: She is ready, isn't she? Negative statement -> positive tag: She isn't ready, is she?

The auxiliary in the statement usually returns in the tag; match the subject pronoun.

18. COMMON ERROR-SPOTTING AREAS

• Subject-verb agreement: Each student has a card.

• Article use: He is an honest person.

• Pronoun case: Riya and I went there; the teacher called Riya and me.

• Tense consistency: She completed the work yesterday.

• Prepositions: interested in, depend on.

• Comparison: more useful, not more better.

• Word form: She answered quickly, not quick.

• Parallelism: She likes reading, writing and speaking.

• Modifiers: make sure the opening phrase clearly describes the subject.

19. FIGURES OF SPEECH - COMPLETE QUICK GUIDE

These are supplementary language concepts. They are useful for English awareness, vocabulary and interpretation even though the uploaded CET sample specifically demonstrates other verbal formats.

Figure	Meaning	Example
Simile	Direct comparison using like/as.	Her smile was like sunshine.
Metaphor	Implied comparison without like/as.	Time is a thief.
Personification	Giving human qualities to non-human things.	The wind whispered.
Hyperbole	Deliberate exaggeration.	I have told you a million times.
Alliteration	Repetition of initial consonant sounds.	Wild winds whistle.
Onomatopoeia	Word imitates a sound.	buzz, splash, clang
Oxymoron	Two apparently contradictory words placed together.	deafening silence
Pun	Wordplay based on multiple meanings/similar sounds.	A bicycle can't stand alone because it is two-tired.
Irony	Meaning/result contrasts with expectation or literal wording.	A fire station burns down.
Apostrophe	Directly addressing an absent person, abstract idea or object.	O Death, where is thy sting?
Metonymy	Related term substitutes for the thing/person.	The crown announced...
Synecdoche	Part represents whole or whole represents part.	All hands on deck.
Euphemism	Mild expression replacing a blunt one.	passed away
Antithesis	Contrasting ideas placed in balanced form.	Speech is silver; silence is golden.
Anaphora	Repetition at the beginning of successive clauses.	We will learn. We will grow. We will succeed.
Repetition	Repeated word/phrase for emphasis.	Never, never give up.
Assonance	Repetition of vowel sounds.	The mellow wedding bells.
Consonance	Repetition of consonant sounds, not necessarily at the beginning.	The lumpy, bumpy road.
Allusion	Brief reference to a known person, event, text or idea.	He met his Waterloo.
Paradox	Apparently contradictory statement that may reveal a truth.	Less is more.
Litotes	Understatement using a negative to express a positive/affirmation.	Not a bad idea.
Climax	Ideas rise in order of importance or intensity.	He whispered, spoke, shouted.
Anticlimax	A sudden drop from serious/high to ordinary or trivial.	He lost his job, his house, and his pen.
Chiasmus	Reversal of grammatical structure in a parallel phrase.	Ask not what your country can do for you...
Transferred Epithet	An adjective is transferred from the person/thing it logically describes to another noun.	a sleepless night
Zeugma	One word governs two others in different senses.	She broke his car and his heart.

20. VOCABULARY & VERBAL SKILLS

Skill	Definition	Example
Synonym	word with similar meaning	rapid - quick
Antonym	word with opposite meaning	ancient - modern
Homophone	same sound, different spelling/meaning	their/there
Homonym	same spelling/sound with different meanings depending on use	bank
One-word substitution	single word replacing a phrase	one who loves books - bibliophile
Idiom	fixed expression whose meaning is not literal	break the ice
Phrasal verb	verb + particle with a distinct meaning	give up, look after
Collocation	words that commonly occur together	make a decision

21. SENTENCE CORRECTION CHECKLIST

1. Find the subject and main verb first.

2. Check singular/plural agreement.

3. Check tense and time expression.

4. Check pronoun case and antecedent.

5. Check articles and determiners.

6. Check preposition/collocation.

7. Check adjective vs adverb.

8. Check comparison forms.

9. Check parallel structure.

10. Check modifier attachment.

11. Read the whole sentence for meaning.

22. MHT-CET-STYLE ATTACK METHOD

Error spotting: read once for meaning, then scan subject-verb, tense, pronoun, article, preposition and word form.

Sentence correction: eliminate choices that create agreement/tense/idiom errors; then choose the cleanest standard sentence.

Fill in the blank: read the sentence before looking at options; identify the required part of speech and meaning.

Vocabulary/RC: use context, not just memorised definitions.

Revision rule	Your friend has already completed Articles, Nouns, Pronouns and Adjectives. Use the Mock 1 result to decide whether to revise these or move forward to verbs, adverbs, tenses, prepositions and sentence correction.