C. Fuel prices rose in nearby towns.
D. The bus fleet is old.
E. Some residents still prefer walking.

PART 7 — READING COMPREHENSION

Organisations often measure what is easiest to count: calls completed, tasks closed, or products delivered. These measures can be useful, but they provide only a partial picture of performance. A team may close many tasks while creating avoidable errors that another team must repair. Similarly, a support desk may answer calls quickly without resolving customers' underlying problems. When a measure becomes the sole target, people may prioritise the measured activity over less visible work. This does not mean that metrics should be abandoned. Instead, they should be interpreted alongside quality, long-term outcomes, and evidence about unintended effects. A sound evaluation system uses numbers as clues about performance, not as a complete definition of it.

44. What is the central idea of the passage?
A. Organisations should stop measuring performance.
B. Easy-to-count metrics are useful but should not be treated as the whole picture.
C. Call centres are ineffective.
D. Quality cannot be measured.
E. Task completion is always harmful.
45. What may happen when a metric becomes the sole target?
A. Employees stop working.
B. People may prioritise the measured activity over less visible work.
C. All errors disappear.
D. Long-term outcomes automatically improve.
E. Numbers become impossible to collect.
46. The support-desk example shows that:
A. quick answers always solve problems
B. speed alone may not mean the underlying problem is resolved
C. customers dislike support
D. calls should never be timed
E. support teams cannot use metrics
47. The author's attitude towards metrics is best described as:
A. entirely opposed
B. uncritically positive
C. balanced and cautionary
D. sarcastic
E. indifferent
48. "Partial picture" most nearly means:
A. a complete account
B. an incomplete view
C. a false number
D. a visual chart
E. a future prediction
49. Which statement is supported?
A. All performance measures are misleading.
B. Numbers should be considered with quality and long-term outcomes.
C. Only visible work matters.
D. More tasks always indicate better performance.
E. Metrics should never be used.
50. The best title is:
A. Why Numbers Must Be Banned
B. When Metrics Do Not Tell the Whole Story
C. The History of Customer Support
D. Closing Tasks Faster
E. A Guide to Call Centres

ANSWER KEY & HINGLISH EXPLANATIONS

Questions and options are English-only. Hinglish is used only in these explanations.

1. A — were willing

Explanation (Hinglish): Neither…nor mein verb usually nearest subject ke according agree karta hai. “Teachers” plural hai, isliye “were willing” correct hai.

2. B — Each of the applicants has submitted the form.

Explanation (Hinglish): “Each” singular maana jaata hai; isliye “has submitted” correct hai.

3. A — much better than

Explanation (Hinglish): “Better” already comparative hai. “More better” double comparative hai; “much better” sahi hai.

4. A — discussed the proposal

Explanation (Hinglish): “Discuss” ke baad direct object aata hai. “About” unnecessary hai.

5. A — who work consistently

Explanation (Hinglish): “Who” yahan plural “students” ko refer karta hai, isliye “work” use hoga.

6. B — He is senior to me in the department.

Explanation (Hinglish): Standard usage “senior to” hai, “senior than” nahi.

7. A — that he was ill

Explanation (Hinglish): “The reason is because” awkward/redundant hai. “The reason … is that he was ill” clear construction hai.

8. A — Riya saw the notice board while walking through the corridor.

Explanation (Hinglish): Original modifier notice board ko walking karte hue imply karta hai. Correct sentence mein Riya walking karti hai.

9. A — regularly

Explanation (Hinglish): Context ke hisaab se accessible library readers ko regularly visit karne encourage karti hai.

10. A — approachable

Explanation (Hinglish): Staff guidance unfamiliar material ko readers ke liye approachable banati hai.

11. A — without

Explanation (Hinglish): “Locate resources without wasting time” natural aur logical phrase hai.

12. A — replace

Explanation (Hinglish): Technology human assistance ki value ko entirely replace nahi kar sakti.

13. A — with

Explanation (Hinglish): Natural construction “combine X with Y” hai.

14. A — but

Explanation (Hinglish): “Not simply…, but…” sentence ka contrast/extension complete karta hai.

15. A — encouraged

Explanation (Hinglish): Library curiosity ko encourage karti hai; context positive hai.

16. A — beyond

Explanation (Hinglish): “Learning can continue beyond formal education” ka meaning logical hai.

17. B — have improved

Explanation (Hinglish): Main subject “quality” singular hai, isliye “has improved” chahiye.

18. B — were asked

Explanation (Hinglish): “Each” singular hai; “was asked” correct hoga.

19. C — since five years

Explanation (Hinglish): Duration ke liye “for five years”; “since” starting point batata hai.

20. E — No error

Explanation (Hinglish): Sentence correct hai: discuss + object. “No error” sahi hai.

21. B — than coffee

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct construction “prefers tea to coffee” hai.

22. C — were useful

Explanation (Hinglish): “Information” uncountable singular noun hai; “was useful” hona chahiye.

23. B — when the power

Explanation (Hinglish): Standard pair “no sooner…than” hai, “no sooner…when” nahi.

24. E — No error

Explanation (Hinglish): Sentence grammatically aur logically correct hai.

25. B — Accommodation

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct spelling accommodation: double c aur double m.

26. C — Definitely

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct spelling definitely hai.

27. B — Separate

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct spelling separate hai; beech mein “par” pattern yaad rakho.

28. C — Maintenance

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct spelling maintenance; word family maintain → maintenance.

29. B — Occurrence

Explanation (Hinglish): Occurrence mein double c aur double r aata hai.

30. B — Privilege

Explanation (Hinglish): Correct spelling privilege; extra d nahi hota.

31. A — Q–S–P–R

Explanation (Hinglish): Question define (Q), data collect (S), results compare (P), phir conclusion (R).

32. B — S–Q–R–P

Explanation (Hinglish): S problem introduce karta hai, Q investigation, R solution, P result. Order S–Q–R–P.

33. A — Q–R–P–S

Explanation (Hinglish): Q problem, R edit, P immediate benefit (“This”), S later outcome.

34. A — Q–P–R–S

Explanation (Hinglish): Q programme, P initial limitation, R response, S improvement.

35. A — Q–P–R–S

Explanation (Hinglish): Q defects discover, P launch postpone, R defects fix, S final test schedule.

36. A — Q–P–S–R

Explanation (Hinglish): Q problem, P response, S explains how review helped, R outcome.

37. B — A new software system was introduced at the same time and automated routine tasks.

Explanation (Hinglish): Naya software alternative cause ho sakta hai. Productivity rise training ki wajah se hi hui, yeh claim weaken hota hai.

38. B — Poor visibility contributes to at least some nighttime accidents.

Explanation (Hinglish): Agar poor visibility kuch accidents ka factor hai tab lights se reduction ka argument banta hai.

39. C — Frequent customers are more likely to sign up for the card in the first place.

Explanation (Hinglish): Ho sakta hai pehle se frequent customers hi card lete hon. Reverse selection ke kaaran cause establish nahi hota.

40. B — Report X underwent peer review.

Explanation (Hinglish): Premise directly kehta hai institute ke published reports peer review se guzarte hain; X bhi unmein se hai.

41. B — Whether a similar class without the programme improved by a comparable amount.

Explanation (Hinglish): Comparison group pata karne se judge hoga improvement programme-specific tha ya general trend.

42. B — A review finds teams with shorter, focused meetings complete comparable work with fewer interruptions.

Explanation (Hinglish): Comparable work fewer interruptions ke saath complete hona shorter focused meetings ke favour mein evidence hai.

43. B — No major service changes occurred, and many new riders said lower fares were their main reason for switching.

Explanation (Hinglish): Alternative changes na hona aur riders ka low fare ko main reason batana causal claim ko support karta hai.

44. B — Easy-to-count metrics are useful but should not be treated as the whole picture.

Explanation (Hinglish): Main point: metrics useful hain, lekin performance ko completely define nahi karte.

45. B — People may prioritise the measured activity over less visible work.

Explanation (Hinglish): Sole target banne par log usi activity ko prioritise kar sakte hain jo measure hoti hai.

46. B — speed alone may not mean the underlying problem is resolved

Explanation (Hinglish): Call ka quick answer dena aur customer ki actual problem solve karna alag cheezein hain.

47. C — balanced and cautionary

Explanation (Hinglish): Author metrics ko reject nahi karta; limitations samjha kar broader evaluation recommend karta hai.

48. B — an incomplete view

Explanation (Hinglish): Partial picture = incomplete view; performance ka sirf ek hissa capture hota hai.

49. B — Numbers should be considered with quality and long-term outcomes.

Explanation (Hinglish): Passage mein metrics ko quality aur long-term outcomes ke saath interpret karne ko kaha gaya hai.

50. B — When Metrics Do Not Tell the Whole Story

Explanation (Hinglish): Yeh title passage ke overall theme ko capture karta hai: metrics useful hain, but complete picture nahi.
